ST. LOUIS WANTS GEORGETOWN DATE

Offers Georgetown Football Game There on Thanksgiving or After Season.

NEW RULES MAY INTERFERE

But Local Institution Will Try to Accept—Holiday Game Draw 15,000 People Last Year.

St. Louis University, through its coach, Henry B. Coehms, has opened negotiations with the football management of Georgetown University for a game to be played in St. Louis next fall, offering Thanksgiving day or a post season date.

At present it seems hardly likely that Georgetown will take such a long trip, owing to the new set of rules governing athletics at the local school. These provide that no team will be permitted to remain away from the city longer than one day and night. Satisfactory arrangements may be made to get around the rule, however, and the sending of the local aggregation to the Missouri city made possible. Should all efforts in this line fail, the St. Louis team may be asked to come to Washington, though the chances of drawing a large crowd to such a game here do not compare favorably with the attendance at St. Louis University's big game last fall with Iowa on Thanksgiving day, when there were 15,000 people present.

Had Great Team Last Year.

St. Louis University was the sensation of the Middle West in football circles last fall, and is declared by Lieutenant Hackett, the former West Point star, referee of last year's Yale-Princeton game, to have been the most perfect exponent of the forward pass seen in action last season.

Henry B. Coehms, the St. Louis athletic coach, was at one time a member of the Wisconsin University team, and played a star game against Yale when the former eleven came East to New Haven a few years ago. Coehms finished his law course at Harvard, where he established wonderful records in various strength tests. When he went to St. Louis last fall he found a squad of very promising material, and after hard work developed a team whose record of victories and defeats scored might be a credit to any championship claimant.

How Their Prospects Compare.

Ten of the 1906 team are counted on to return to school next year, thereby insuring St. Louis another strong eleven. The Western Jesuit school is especially anxious to meet a representative Jesuit institution of the East, hence the letter to Georgetown.

Georgetown's prospects for next season are very bright just now. Of the 1906 team Capt. Dutton, Hodgson, Kerr, McLaughlin, Woods, Buckley, Glennon, and Cullin, Miller, and Devine have signified their intention of returning, and with their past season's experience as a foundation, should develop into one of the best teams in the country.

Manager Fitzgerald is negotiating with Georgetown and Virginia for games next season. It is probable that Georgetown will play the latter team in Richmond next November.

Manager Charles Stuart of the Georgetown University basketball team is arranging to have the University of Virginia team here the latter part of February, the game to be played in the Washington high school gymnasium. The Blue and Gray quintet expects to meet Annapolis next month, if present plans go through.

MANY BIG GAMES FOR NEW ORLEANS

Here is what "That Dutchman," Charles Frank, manager of the New Orleans team, in the Southern League, has to say about his exhibition games for the spring.

"I have completed our schedule of exhibition games for the spring season. The first series will be with the Chicago National League team, winners of their league championship. These games begin on March 13 and extend through the 14th, 15th, and 16th of the month. Following the Nationals will come Comiskey's White Sox, winners of the world's championship. With the White Sox team will be George Rube and Eddie Hahn, the two Pelicans who really won the series for Comiskey. They will play here on March 20, 21, 22, and 24.

"I tried to arrange to have the White Sox and the Nationals play together a series of five games, but this could not be arranged at this season. After the two Chicago teams finish up with my team, the Philadelphia Athletics, of the American League, and the New Yorks, of the National League, will meet here and play out the old world's championship series. These two teams fought out the question of supremacy last year, and the managers are still confident they can win from each other. The spirit of rivalry is just as keen now as it was then. With the Philadelphia team will be Jimmy Dygert, the little Pollock. These two teams will meet on March 27, 28, 29, and 31."

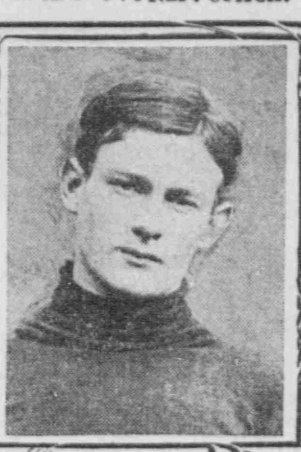

KNOX PUT TO SLEEP.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 19.—Jack Farrell, of New York, knocked out Charlie Knox, of this city, in the sixth round here last night. Knox had twice been saved by the gong in the earlier rounds. Farrell was the aggressor and during the bout Knox took the count five times.

TOMMY LOWE WINS.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Tommy Lowe, of Washington, bested George Decker here last night in six rounds, despite a sore thumb. In the first round Decker was sent to the mat, but stalled for the remainder of the round. In the last two rounds he was very tired from body blows and was forced to quit.

TOWNE AND DURNAN TWO GOOD SCULLERS

Interesting Career of Men Who Will Compete for Pro. World Title.

George Towne, the Australian sculler, who is matched to scull Eddie Hanlan Durnan, of Canada, for the championship of the world and $5,000 a side, is a native-born Australian, having been born in Sydney near Croy Bay.

His father was a fisherman, and the young man took to the water with avidity. He first came into prominence in the aquatic world when he took a trip several years ago to England and beat Jimmy Barry for the championship of Great Britain. Eddie Sullivan, who once held the championship of the world at single sculls, took young Towne under his care and quickly developed the promising youngster. Both Towne and Sullivan belong to the same class of rowers.

Towne Beat Hanlan.

Sullivan once defeated Ned Hanlan, Durnan's uncle, for the championship. On the return match at Toronto Bay, Hanlan beat Towne for a side bet of $1,000.

Later on Towne beat him again, thus making the Australian the champion of the world at single sculls. Perhaps Towne's greatest feat was when he beat Jake Gaudaur for the championship of America, he making the trip over here in record time, beating his man at a scull race.

Towne is thirty-three years old, weighs 165 pounds when rowing, and is 5 feet 10 inches tall. He uses a boat 26 feet long, 12 inches wide, 6 inches deep, 32 inches at bow, and 4 inches at the stern. He sculls at about 26 to the minute.

Durnan Pure Canadian.

Eddie Durnan, like Towne, was also the offspring of fishermen. He was born in Toronto, Ontario, and got his first instructions in sculling from his uncle, Eddie Hanlan. His rise in the rowing world was rapid, he defeating some of the best scullers of the day. His greatest match was that against Jimmy Sullivan in Toronto Bay last year for $1,000 a side.

Towne has made several long trips to Australia and England, beating some of the best men the foreigners could produce. He is about twenty-nine years old, weighs 165 pounds, and is 5 feet 11 inches tall. He pulls the oar in a fast and scientific manner, while in rowing trim, his chest is 38 inches, his arms 16 inches, and his thighs 18 inches.

Difference in Experience.

Durnan, for the most part in his rowing experience, has been at work in Toronto Bay, and as this is a fresh water with no current, he has a great advantage over the men that he could meet in these waters. But in Australia it is far different. The Parramatta river is a branch of the sea, and is, of course, salt water, with a terrific current. Towne has seen much of this kind of rowing, but Durnan, who has been struggling in fresh water, will find it a pretty tough proposition.

After hearing the news of the match Fred Plaisant, the noted sculler and coach, who has rowed many international races, and who is wintering in Washington, while in rowing trim, he was making a mistake in taking the trip to Australia to meet the champion.

SOME TIMELY TIPS ABOUT TOURNAMENT

In no national bowling tournament, as yet held, there has been so many innovations as are proposed for the first open championships to be held by the National Bowling Association at Atlantic City, beginning March 25, at the very height of its Easter season. It is proposed to make this 1907 event up to date in every respect.

Every detail in the general running of the tournament shows the modern methods employed. A trip combination entry blank will show, at a glance, whether the writer is entered in the one, two or five man competition, or all these. Such entries must be mailed by March 10, at latest.

The tournament itself will start March 25, and the committee desires special stress to be laid upon the condition that no entries will be added to the regular list as scheduled, such schedule to be mailed to each contestant ten days before the start of the tournament. Under no conditions will any entry be added after such list is issued. This one feature will prevent any such mix-ups as occurred last year out West.

Still one other special innovation will be the matter of credentials. In lieu of receipt, each contestant, on sending entry and entrance fee, will be mailed a card which will be receipt, identification card, and admission card to the pier, all in one. Only the holders of such cards will be allowed on the floor. This system will avoid all questions of eligibility and will do away with the tedious wait-in-line for credentials, which has been such a drawback at other tournaments.

CENTRAL HIGH MAY PLAY PENNSYLVANIA FRESHMEN

Negotiations On For Annual Baseball Game, Beginning This Year—Interscholastic Basketball Cup—Army and Navy Preps. Busy.

Negotiations have been on for some time between Manager Powell P. Browning, of the Coe High School baseball team, and the officials in charge of the Pennsylvania University Freshman nine for the purpose of arranging a game for next spring.

While the question has not been definitely settled, it is practically certain that the Central men will go to Philadelphia instead of the Quakers coming here to play what will, perhaps, be the first of a series of annual games.

It is the hope of the students at Central that the Pennsylvanians be brought here either in the spring or the year following, and that each year the teams will alternate between Washington and Philadelphia.

A. M. Chesley, of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association, of this city, recently offered a handsome silver cup to be competed for by the five basketball teams representing the high schools of Washington. Mrs. Chesley also offered the proposed league the use of the gymnasium of the boys' department.

Western has had a five for a number of weeks. Eastern was the next to organize, and Business followed the lead set by these schools. Technical, so far as can be learned, has not yet put a team in the field, but it is understood from some of the pupils at the manual training institution that steps will be taken for the formation of a representative in this branch of sport.

Central High is probably the only school that will not have a team. Mr. Chesley is responsible for the statement that the proposition was broached to the athletic association officials at Central, but that for several reasons it was tentatively turned down. The chief argument raised is that interscholastic basketball will take up too much of the time of men who are expected to go out for the baseball and track teams. However, a reconsideration of the matter it may be that it can be so arranged that the three lines of sport will not conflict, and too much of the athletes' time will not be taken from their studies. It is expected that the subject will be discussed and definitely settled within the next few days.

Through the efforts of Logan Cunningham, who last fall was a member of the Army and Navy Preparatory school, the athletic association of that school has secured the Washington Infantry Hall on Fifteenth street for the use of the basketball and track teams.

This is the first year that the embryo officers and sailors have gone in so extensively for athletics. Last year's football team was, no doubt, the best team that ever represented the institution.

The showing the eleven made in the interscholastic basketball work was good. Only light preliminary work was done. The selecting of a basketball team will be begun at an early date by Cunningham, who was last night elected manager, as well as coach, of the team.

Immediately after the selection of Cunningham, two men chose B. M. Tyson, who played right tackle on the football team, captain of the basketball team, and a representative of the Midlothian Club. The dates for the three events and the style of play will be decided upon by the committee in the near future. Complete harmony prevailed throughout the meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 19.—Young Loughrey and Johnny Dougherty proved the star attraction at the Wayne Athletic Club last night and put up one of the best fights seen this year at this club. Loughrey had the better of the exchange. During the last round Loughrey showed that he was the better man, in spite of the punishment he had to take.

The semi-windup was between Tommy Feltz and Kid Broad. Broad was the aggressor, but Feltz proved too clever and had the better of the bout.

In the first preliminary bout between Young Madge and Young Ernst, the fighters were evenly matched until the fourth round, when the latter waded in and won with a knockout. Harry Wagner and Young Finkle were the next in line. Finkle was the aggressor, and won with something to spare.

WISCONSIN TO HOLD A RELAY CARNIVAL G. W. U. TEAM USES RUNNER FLEMING

Will Invite Teams of Big Nine and Colleges in the State.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 19.—Dr. S. P. Hutchins, director of athletics at Wisconsin, has announced that he has decided to hold an indoor relay carnival here on March 15. Entries will be invited from all of the universities in the "big nine" and from the minor colleges, and preparatory and high schools of the State. Dr. Hutchins' intention is to make the carnival similar to that held by the University of Pennsylvania every year.

The events will be classified as follows: Class A, State college championship; Class B, State preparatory schools championship; Class C, State high school championship; Classes E, F, and G, State high school championship, arranged according to size of school; special classes, interfraternity and interclub championship.

Outdoor Dual Meets.

The winning teams will receive special trophies and the individual members of the winning teams will receive medals. Mr. Hutchins also announced tonight that arrangements had been made for an outdoor dual track meet with Minnesota to be held in Madison on May 13 and one with Chicago to be held in Chicago on May 25.

In response to Coach Tom Eyck's call sixty candidates for the various crews reported for practice today. The coach is well pleased with the way the season opens up. He worked the freshmen candidates on the rowing machines for over an hour and then took the varsity candidates in hand and put them through some preliminary work. Hereafter practice will be held daily.

RILEY DECLINES TO BE A SUCKER

M. M. Riley, representing the fighting interests of Tonopah, wired Joe Gans yesterday: "Cannot handle Murphy-Corbett fight. Would be no attraction in Nevada."

Now a dispatch comes from Goldfield to the effect that Tex Rickard, the famous promoter who handled the Gans-Nelson battle for the lightweight championship, will make an offer of a purse for the lightweight fight between Tommy Murphy, of New York, and Young Corbett, the ex-featherweight champion.

Word that the two fighters had signed articles reached here last night, and when Rickard was told that bids were wanted from the Nevada towns he said he would not make any offer. He said he would look over the drawing possibilities of the battle as a Goldfield attraction, and if he decided to make a bid, would declare it within the next few days. He was favorably impressed with the match.

PLUNGER RYAN BARRED.
John J. Ryan, noted get-rich-quick promoter and turf plunger, is not wanted at the Ascoi Park track, Los Angeles. The directors of the club met yesterday and decided to bar him from the privileges of the track. He was ruled off the track for a year and a half for a series of years ago and the local racing associations sustained the ruling.

NO TOURNAMENT FOR WASHINGTON

Chevy Chase Defeated in Bid for Woman's Championship.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—At the twelfth annual meeting of the United States Golf Association held here in the Auditorium last night, Daniel Chauncey, of Dyker Meadows, was elected president. The entire ticket as presented by the nominating committee was chosen as set before the meeting.

The other officers elected followed: First vice president, Fred S. James, Glen View; second vice president, Alexander Britton, Chevy Chase; treasurer, Samuel Y. Heebner, Philadelphia Cricket Club; directors, Silas H. Strawn, Midlothian; W. W. Dickinson, Des Moines, Iowa; Leighton Calkins, Plainfield, N. J.; Herbert Jaques, Country Club of Brookline.

Following are the awards of the different tournaments which were made: National amateur championships, E. J. Connelley, of Cleveland; woman's championships, Midlothian Country Club; professional, Philadelphia Cricket Club; Chevy Chase, of Washington, put in a bid for the woman's event, but was defeated by a vote of 30 to 3 in favor of the Midlothian Club. The dates for the three events and the style of play will be decided upon by the committee in the near future. Complete harmony prevailed throughout the meeting.

LOUGHREY BETTER THAN DOUGHERTY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 19.—Young Loughrey and Johnny Dougherty proved the star attraction at the Wayne Athletic Club last night and put up one of the best fights seen this year at this club. Loughrey had the better of the exchange. During the last round Loughrey showed that he was the better man, in spite of the punishment he had to take.

The semi-windup was between Tommy Feltz and Kid Broad. Broad was the aggressor, but Feltz proved too clever and had the better of the bout.

In the first preliminary bout between Young Madge and Young Ernst, the fighters were evenly matched until the fourth round, when the latter waded in and won with a knockout. Harry Wagner and Young Finkle were the next in line. Finkle was the aggressor, and won with something to spare.

SKATING CHALLENGE FOR LOCAL LIGHTS

Comes a challenge from a young man who says he can skate right smart. He writes to The Times as follows:

Young Lyman is a native of New York, and is now in this city who will compete against him. He has defeated such world beater as Morris Wood, national champion, Phil Kearney, Allan Taylor, A. V. Sarony, Harry McDonald, and Robson, of Canada. The national indoor speed skating championships will be held February 2 and 3 at Duquesne, local boys are fast enough they will get a chance to go and compete."

LUBO MADE CAPTAIN OF CARLISLE TEAM

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 19.—At a meeting of the members of the Carlisle Indian football team, Antonio Lubo, an Indian, from lower California, was elected captain for the ensuing year. Lubo is twenty-two years old, and was born at Craftonville, Cal., where his parents still reside. He entered Carlisle four years ago.

Captain Lubo played his first football four years ago when he took his brother's place on the team, and has been tried at guard, tackle, and end. Since 1903 he has played baseball several times in the fall. With a view to taking up electrical engineering, he is now doing supplemental work at Dickinson College, Carlisle.

HARRY BAY ON STAGE.

Not many baseball fans know that Harry Bay possesses talent both as musician and actor. Nowadays, when ball tossing is having its vacation, Bay is on the stage and making good. Introductory to the footlights is not of recent occurrence to him. He has been in the theatrical line for several years and has played the cornet and other instruments since he was a boy. He started out professionally when twelve years of age, traveling with Stewart's Georgia Minstrels, as member of a family of musicians, of which, however, he was the only one whose name was Bay. A couple of years ago he had a part interest in "Uncle Josh Sprucey," a play that toured the Western cities.

SPONGE GOES UP FOR HARRY BAKER

Beaten to Standstill in Eighth Round by Champion Abe Attell.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 19.—Abe Attell clearly demonstrated his superiority over Harry Baker before the Pacific Athletic Club last night, giving the San Francisco boy a thorough drubbing.

After a minute of fighting in the eighth round, Baker was all in, and the sponge was tossed into the ring. Baker could not have lasted a minute longer.

The finish really came when they were in the center of the ring in the seventh round. Attel suddenly rushed at his opponent like a mad bull. He swung a short left and Baker went down with a terrific thump. His head banged the floor, and he lay flat on his back. Referee James J. Jeffries began the counting of ten and Baker rose to his hands and knees, with a badly dazed expression on his face.

Attel Attacks Second.

Van Court sprang on the platform outside the ring and yelled to Baker to take the benefit of the count. Attel rushed at the boxing instructor and swung. The blow just missed Van Court's head.

By this time Baker was on his feet, but all but out. Attel went into him with a left and Baker went down again. As Harry was on one knee taking the count, Attel again swung at one of Baker's secondaries. Attel then backed away, and as Baker got to his feet the champion hit him in the back of the head, and Baker was out again. As champion Jeffries was counting the gong sounded, saving the prostrate fighter.

The fallen boy was carried to his corner, but the minute's rest did him no good, and when the boys went at it again Baker could do nothing but cover up.

Baker Never Had Chance.

Attel went right after him. He sent a left to the face and a shower of lefts and rights to the body. Attel was swinging wildly in his anxiety to knock out Baker. Harry backed away and covered up, but it was useless, and as he went down the sponge came into the ring.

Attel was in the best of shape and walked over his lucky little antagonist. From the start he planned for a knockout. Baker landed only a few good punches during the eight rounds.

DORMAN KNOCKS OUT MEYERS IN FOURTH

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Jack Dorman, better known as New York Jack O'Brien, knocked out Lew Meyers last night in the fifth round of the main bout at the stage of the New York Polo Athletic Club.

It was a slugging match from the tap of the bell. In the fifth round before ten seconds had elapsed, landed a terrific right-hand swing on Meyers' jaw. Meyers dropped to the floor and remained there for about eight seconds. When he raised his arms against Dorman he was again knocked down. The referee then stopped the bout.

FRESHMEN INELIGIBLE FOR PENN'S ROWING

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Coach Ellis Ward stated yesterday that Pennsylvania freshmen were not eligible for any varsity crew this year, as was erroneously reported.

"Pennsylvania and Cornell will not make any exception to their ruling of a year ago, which bars freshmen from participating on any varsity athletic team, and we intend to strictly stand by this rule," remarked Coach Ward.

YALE AND HARVARD REGATTA ON JUNE 27

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 19.—Yale and Harvard last night arranged the annual regatta to be held Thursday, June 27, at New London. The officials will be discussed at a later conference.

It was decided to row the varsity four-oared race at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the freshman eight-oared race half an hour later. Both are two-mile races. The varsity eight-oared race at four miles will be rowed at half-past 1 in the afternoon.

BEEBE-DELMONT DRAW.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 19.—Kid Beebe, of Philadelphia, forced Al Delmont, of Boston, to put up the hardest fight of his career to get a draw in twelve rounds here Thursday night. It was the fastest boxing contest ever held here, each round being a whirlwind. Beebe scored the only knockdown of the contest in the eighth round. In the eleventh round Delmont opened a bad cut over Beebe's eye.

HARVARD WILL ROW COLUMBIA IN MAY

First Meeting Between Them in 12 Years—Race at Cambridge.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Seth L. Pierpont, manager of the Columbia rowing fleet, yesterday announced that he had clinched a race with the Harvard varsity eight, to be rowed on the Charles river at Cambridge on May 11 or 12.

This step was taken in answer to a challenge sent to Columbia some time ago by Harvard. These institutions have not met on the water for twelve years, partly because the Columbians had too many agreements with other colleges, and partly because Harvard did not want to take on any more races in a season than it already had. When the Harvard men attracted attention by the recent invasion of English rowing waters, the Columbians decided that they would like to arrange a match with them.

Captain John N. Boyle of the Columbia varsity eight wrote to the Harvard rowing authorities requesting them to meet Columbia in a race. A week ago Manager Pierpont received a final challenge from Harvard to row at Cambridge on either May 11 or 12. Pierpont submitted the matter to the Columbia authorities and they heartily favored the plan.

It is as yet undecided whether the race shall be two or four miles, but the chances are that neither university will be anxious for more than a two-mile race on so early a date.

At the end of the first half the score was 4 to 2 in favor of Company F, Herbert, of Company H, tied the score in the second period by a beautiful goal. The time-up:
